

A red banner is suspended from a utility pole against a clear blue sky. The banner features the text 'Parkdale' in a large, white, sans-serif font, with 'village' in a smaller, white, sans-serif font positioned directly below it. The banner is held up by several black cables. To the right, a utility pole with various wires and hardware is visible. On the left, a portion of a building with a dark, corrugated metal roof is seen.
